June Merchandising.

June is the month we are at our best. All the small stocks of our neighbors at this season are badly broken, and ours looms up with an assortment equal to most city stores.

We are continually being besieged by manufacturers who want to dispose of summer goods for CASH.

It's a wonderful time to help you who depend on us for Clothing, Furnishings and Shoes.

We're Doing It.

Just closed out one Manufacturer of his Boy's and Children's Suits last week. He only had $1,000 worth, but WE BOUGHT THEM FOR $500. The difference is yours

Convict Captured—Child Drowned—Heavy Sales of Tobacco—Destructive Hail Storm—Brilliant Wedding—Items of Interest.

Market Firm and Active.

The tobacco market this week was firm at last week's quotations, activity being displayed in every line. Much good tobacco was sold and prices again ranged from $10 up for this kind. Common leaf and lugs held their own well and commanded full and very satisfactory prices. Offerings amounted to about a thousand hogsheads and sales were fairly up to that amount, rejection being few. All tobacco in proper order went off without trouble, but there were a few hogsheads out of proper condition and it was thought best to reject goods of this character. Receipts are still very heavy and the indications are that they will continue full for some time yet, as there is considerable tobacco that has not been moved from the barn. The growing crop is looking well and the stand is fair. In some sections farmers are still setting and replanting. There is nothing to chronicle concerning the loose market. A full account of the week's sales will appear in our next issue.

Clarksville West Down.

The Griffith team, the local second nine, easily defeated the Clarksville second nine Wednesday afternoon in the game at Athletic Park. It was decidedly the tamer game of the season and was witnessed by a large crowd. The visiting pitcher was batted in all directions and any number of times. At the beginning of the fifth inning a "new man" was put in the box and then the game of practice seemed just begun, as the Griffiths continued their "walk over" with out interruption. It was suggested that the score be kept a secret, but as lovers of the sport always like to learn the "official" returns, we give the result: Griffiths 26, Clarksville 6. The visitors returned home the same night. Another game between the clubs may be arranged to come off on the Clarksville grounds.

Heavy Hail Storm.

Possibly the heaviest and most destructive rain and hail storm that ever visited this section passed over the country a few miles northeast of the city Tuesday. Corn was stripped of its blades and whirled about by the wind and tobacco plants were cut from the ground in many places. Vegetables were also ruined in many gardens and the damage to fruit was also great. Several small bridges were washed away and some fencing was carried off. The rain lasted nearly an hour and was the heaviest for years in that section. The damage by hail is estimated at several hundred dollars.

A Davies County Snake Story.

The Owensboro Inquirer is responsible for the following snake story which is ahead of anything on the subject this season. It says: Mr. Herbert Hale killed two snakes last week of a new variety which were very vicious and fought him until dispatched. They measured a little over six feet long and each contained six young guineas and four guinea eggs with the shells not broken and inside the eggs living young guineas, which would have been hatched in a few days. These snakes were found in an old stump on the farm of Mr. Zack Horn.

Missionary Meeting at Morganfield.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Louisville Conference was held at Morganfield this week. Messdames G. W. Gardner, A. H. Clark and Mary Morton, and Misses Katie McDaniell, Mable Moore, Lottie and Sallie Campbell, from this city, attended. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Miss Mary Helm, Pres.; Mrs. J. K. Clark, V. P.; Miss Katie McDaniell, Recording Sec.; Miss Katie Murphy, Cor. Sec.; Mrs. Foskett, Sec. Juv. Work; Mrs. Mary Morton, Dist. Sec. The next meeting will be held in Adairville, Ky.

Another of the Dalton Gang.

C. C. Dalton, a member of the famous Dalton gang, was arrested Monday at Gainesborough, Tenn. The prisoner is wanted for the murder of a man named Lakins, in Granger county, Tenn., fifteen years ago. Since that time Dalton has been leading the life of a desperado in the West. He is dangerously ill from pulmonary trouble, and it is quite likely that he will die before the trial comes up.

Death at Trenton.

TRENTON, June 27.—Died the 25th inst., Amy Arnold Graves, infant of M. M. and D. M. Graves, aged 6 months and 15 days. A little flower seemingly too beautiful, sweet and bright to remain in this world of sin.

ELLIOTT—WHEELER.

A Beautiful Wedding at Grace Episcopal Church Wednesday Evening.

One of the most select audiences ever seen in this city was that which assembled at Grace Episcopal church, on Sixth street, Wednesday evening, to witness the marriage of Mr. John D. Elliott, a prominent young tobacco-merchant of Owensboro, and Miss Emily Auchinleck Wheeler, daughter of Dr. Wm. G. Wheeler, one of Hopkinsville's most prominent citizens. The church was beautifully and tastefully decorated, and the soft light from the chandeliers was thrown over an assemblage composed of the creme de la creme of Hopkinsville's society. The bridesmaids entered the church from the vestry, and preceded by Masters Eloise Bradshaw and James Wheeler, the pages, met the bride at the church door. The best man was Wheeler Campbell, of Paducah, and the Maid of Honor was Miss Elizabeth Morris, of Natchez. The attendants were Messrs. William Stites, Whit Clark, Starling Thompson and Charles Dallen, of Henderson; Brantford Clark, of Owensboro, and Frank Buckner, of this city, and Messrs. Rosa Drane, of Clarksville; Reita Faxon, of Chattanooga; May Goodwin, of Owensboro; and Letitia Fairleigh, Gertrude Bramham and Alice Seobey, of this city. The ushers were Messrs. Walker Wood and Gordon Nelson, of this city.

The wedding hymn was sung as a choral service by Misses Gene Henner, Midge Fairleigh, Jennie Winfree, Elsie Nelson and Elizabeth Blakemore, of this city, who were stationed in the chancel as the wedding party approached the altar.

Mr. Malcolm Smith, of Clarksville, sang the solo, "Oh, Promise Me," at the close of the marriage ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. W. Venable, the former rector of Grace church.

Immediately following the ceremony at the church the wedding party, accompanied by a large number of invited guests, repaired to Hotel Latham, where an elegant reception was held, closing with a banquet, both of which were among the most notable and brilliant events of the kind that ever took place in this city.

At the close of the banquet the bride couple left on a special train for Owensboro, their future home. The wedding presents were both numerous and elegant, having been received from friends and relatives residing in a dozen states, and constituted one of the most beautiful and elegant assortments of the kind ever seen, not only in Hopkinsville but in Kentucky.

The bride is possessed of many accomplishments, and is a most attractive young lady and a great favorite in Hopkinsville society.

The groom is a prosperous young tobacco dealer, and is quite popular with all.

The couple will probably go to Europe in August, to spend some time.

Both Wet and Dry.

Sad seems to be the condition of the "Wets" and "Drys" in poor old Hartford, the county seat of a prohibition county. An election was held in January, in which the "Drys" won, and was set aside by the Circuit Court at that time and sent to the Court of Appeals, where it now is, and another election was had June 17, in which the "Wets" won. Now the "Drys" will contest the election, claiming that ten illegal votes were cast in the last election which might very materially change the vote, and other frauds and illegal practices will be charged in the petition.

Chief Fritz Makes a Good Catch.

Albert Wallace, col., who was sent up in 1889 from this county for five years for horse stealing, only serving seven months of his sentence when he escaped, was arrested in this city Monday night by Chief Fritz. He was taken completely by surprise and made no effort to escape. A reward of $100 had been offered by the governor to anyone who would return him to prison, and the officer took his man back to Frankfort Tuesday.

Drowned in the Cumberland.

CANBY, June 24.—The 12-year-old son of Mr. William Malone, of Canton, was drowned yesterday in the Cumberland river while bathing with a lot of companions. The little fellow had been in the habit of bathing in the river and was a good swimmer, but on this occasion went beyond his depth and was carried away by the current. His body was not recovered until this morning.

Smashed an Engine.

Johnson Bros., while en-route to Casey with a traction engine Monday afternoon, let the machine fly the track and over-turn, smashing up things generally. No one was hurt, but it took a while to get the engine on repairs will be considerable.

THE CONVENTION.

THE GOLD MEN CAPTURED! AND ENDORSE CLEVELAND.

The Silver Men Fought Hard and Died in the last Ditch—The Convention Destructive to the Democracy and the Democracy—Nominations Made Wednesday Night.

LOUISVILLE, June 26.—The Democratic convention met Tuesday afternoon and was called to order by Chairman Carroll. Music Hall was packed to the doors and as the mercury was nearly 100 degrees it was a veritable sweat-box.

The Hardin men put forward W. M. Beckner, of Clark, and the Clay men W. J. Stone, of Lyon, for temporary chairman and the first test of strength resulted in a victory for Hardin. Beckner was elected by a vote of 448 to 420.

Jas. E. Stone and Wm. Cronwell were elected temporary secretaries with a number of assistants. The convention then announced the committees and adjourned till night.

At the Tuesday night session nothing was accomplished, except to permanently organize.

The Committee on Organization reported A. S. Berry, of Campbell, for chairman, unanimously and he was elected without opposition. The temporary secretaries were made the permanent officers.

After howling themselves hoarse over the motions that amounted to nothing, the delegates adjourned at 1:30 a. m. The Hardin men having tried in vain to force a ballot without waiting for the platform.

On Wednesday morning the Committee on Resolutions reported the following platform:

First.—The Democracy of Kentucky, in convention assembled, congratulate the country upon the repeal of the McKinley tariff law, and upon the evidence we have on every hand of returning prosperity, under the operations of reduced and equalized tariff taxation; and we denounce as fraught with danger and disaster the threat of our Republican adversaries to re-establish a protective tariff and to re-institute a policy of unequal taxation, which in connection with general government, because of the Republican party culminated in the business panic of 1893.

Second.—The Democratic party, which has always stood for the separation of church and State, for the sake alike of civil and religious freedom, does not hesitate to condemn all efforts to create a distinction between the church and the State, in faith as repugnant to an enlightened age and abhorrent to the instincts of American freemen.

Third.—We reaffirm without qualification the principles and policies declared by the National Democratic platform of 1892 and declare that our present National Democratic Administration is the only one available of the party for its honest, courageous and statesmanlike management of public affairs; and we express our undiminished confidence in the Democracy and patriotism of Grover Cleveland and his distinguished co-adviser and Secretary, John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky.

Fourth.—When the Democratic party came into power 1892 the bonded indebtedness of Kentucky was over $4,000,000. The nominal value of the assets of the Sinking Fund was about $8,000,000, made up in part of Republican improvements that cost over and were carried at a valuation of $4,800,000, but which yielded at that time no net revenue, and were worth in cash only about $500,000, thus showing an actual deficit in the sinking fund as compared with our indebtedness of about $900,000. Since 1892 the bonded indebtedness has been reduced to $650,000, the available assets of the Sinking Fund more than equal that sum.

We have increased the annual appropriation for support of our charitable institutions from $250,000 in 1892 to $500,000 in 1895, and whilst improving our judicial system by increasing the number of courts and the frequency of their sessions, have been compelled to increase our expenditures, one of the greatest items of which is the cost of criminal prosecutions and a noticeable fact in connection with which is that the increase is greatest in districts controlled by the Republican officials. We have nevertheless been able to decrease the current cost of taxation for general revenue purposes from twenty cents on the one hundred dollars of taxable property in 1892 to fifteen cents in 1895. The Democratic majority have voluntarily increased the annual expenditures for the support of the common schools from $250,000 in 1892 to about $2,000,000 in 1895, and have wisely provided separate schools for the thousands of to-day giving to the children of the colored race opportunities for education they nowhere else can enjoy. In the face of unexampled difficulties.

RED THUNDER IN JAIL.
The Old Chief Led the Recent North Dakota Uprising.

Although Eighty-Eight Years Old He Is Making Lots of Trouble—Has Killed Seven Indian Braves and One White Man.

Red Thunder, one of the bolliergent leaders of the recent Indian uprising in the Turtle mountains, is imprisoned in the Ramsey county jail, near Devils Lake, N. D. The old man, who is 88 years old, has had a stormy and eventful career. Red Thunder's tribe was once a part of a large band of Indians, the majority of whom are now located on the Red Lake and White Earth reservations, in North Dakota. His office has been that of orator for a band of Chippewas, although he is himself a full-blooded Cree and is a type of the Simon-pure aborigine. He has never submitted with good grace to the encroachments made by the pale faces upon the vast territories once held by the Indians in undisturbed sway. Born in the Peninsula mountains in 1807, he has passed his life in that region lying between the Turtle mountains. Descended from a long line of chiefs, counsellors, or petty chiefs, he is possessed of a proud and warlike spirit, and looks upon the white man as a trespasser whose only right is that of might.

He has a wife 45 years old, forty-three years younger than himself, and five children, three daughters and two sons. Three times he has journeyed to Washington to negotiate treaties for his tribe. He boasts of having killed seven Indians and one white man. The latter was one of a band of horse thieves near Fort Chapel and was shot in self-defense. His Indian victims, four Sioux, two Cheyennes and one Assiniboin were killed in tribal wars.

Red Thunder is nearly six feet tall and was once a man of massive proportions. The sheriff has found the old man a model prisoner. He is suffering from a chest trouble which the physicians say will develop into pneumonia. The captive longs for his freedom though he refuses to take any exercise around the jail.

The trouble which led to the imprisonment of Red Thunder was caused by a contest for certain lands in the state.

Do You Want to Stop Tobacco?
YOU CAN BE CURED WHILE USING IT.
The habit of using tobacco grows on a man until grave diseased conditions are produced. Tobacco causes cancer of the mouth, stomach, dyspepsia, loss of memory, nervous affections, paralysis of the retina, and attacks of the optic nerve, resulting in impairment of vision, even to total blindness; dizziness, or vertigo; tobacco asthma, a slight cough, dull pain in region of heart, followed later by sharp pains, palpitation and weakened pulse, in fatal disease. It associates with violence. QUIT BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE.
To quit successfully is to save one's life to the system as tobacco is an inveterate user, he becomes a stimulant and a source of continual craving. "Tobacco-cure" is a scientific and reliable vegetable remedy, guaranteed to be perfectly harmless, and which has been in use for the last 25 years, having cured thousands of habitual tobacco users—men, women and children.
You can have all the tobacco you want, while taking "Tobacco-cure." It will satisfy you when you desire. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure you with three boxes. We refund the money with full interest if "Tobacco-cure" does not cure you. But a safe and scientific cure—which absolutely cures the craving for tobacco, without any loss of life power, and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first dose of smoke.
Sold by all druggists, at $1.00 per box, three boxes, thirty-day treatment, and a GUARANTEE. REFUND, if you do not get direct upon receipt of price. Send SIXTY-CENT STAMP FOR A LITTLE BOOK AND ANSWER FREE. BARNHARTT.

OLNEY'S SUCCESSOR.
Attorney General Harmon is said to be an excellent lawyer.

Judson Harmon, just appointed attorney general by President Cleveland, is not only recognized as one of the foremost lawyers and jurists of Ohio, but as one of the most popular citizens. He was born near Cincinnati forty-nine years ago, has always lived there, and is known by all. His father, Rev. H. F. Harmon, was a Baptist minister, well known throughout the Ohio valley. Mr. Harmon graduated at Denison university, a Baptist institution, at Granville, O., in 1859, and began the practice of law in 1860. He was a republican till 1872, when he Greenized. He was elected superior judge in 1878, reelected in 1881, and when ex-Gov. George Hoadly went to New York in 1887 Judge Harmon resigned from the

ARCHBISHOP WILLIAMS.
He Has Been a Roman Catholic Priest for Half a Century.

The greatest ecclesiastical demonstration which has taken place in Boston in many years was the recent celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Archbishop John Joseph Williams' entry into the priesthood. The event was notable for the impressive pontifical ceremonies in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, and in the presence of the highest prelates of the Catholic church in America.

Archbishop Williams was born of Irish parents in Boston, April 3, 1822, and began his primary education in the public schools. The Catholic bishop finally sent him to the Sulpician seminary at Montreal. He was graduated in 1841, and went to the Seminary of St. Sulpice in Paris, where, four years later, he completed his studies for the priesthood and received holy orders from Mgr. After the revolution of 1848, he became assistant at the small cathedral then existing, and after ten years was made rector of the cathedral. He was appointed vicar general in 1859, and was consecrated bishop of Boston in 1866. In 1875 Pope Pius IX. made Boston a metropolitan archdiocese, with Mgr. Dr. Williams as its first archbishop.

The history of the diocese of Boston, says Leslie's Weekly, during the twenty-nine years of Archbishop Williams' episcopate has been a record of unprecedented Catholic progress in New England, made with so little ostentation that it is hard to realize how rapid and solid it has been. The two great monuments of his episcopate are the Cathedral of the Holy Cross and St. John's Ecclesiastical seminary in the Brighton district of Boston. The cathedral is equalled in spaciousness and beauty by few of the Catholic churches in this country, and surpassed by none but the cathedral of New York.

Soldiers Are Very Expensive.
During the most peaceful years the world has 3,700,000 soldiers who are withdrawn from productive occupations to pose as soldiers. The pay, equipments, food and clothing of these men cost the world's taxpayers nearly $500,000,000 a year.

The idea of Democracy nominating Judge Linn is "preposterous." He would be beat a thousand votes at the general election. But if you don't come out and vote he will have things "fixed" for you at the convention which meets in Murray July 8th—Murray Ledger.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: No matter which way Kentucky votes, the Democrats of Missouri will hold a State convention in August and will declare explicitly and unequivocally for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for any other nation.

An election was held in Elizabethtown Saturday to take the sense of the voters on the question of bonding the town sufficiently to build a system of waterworks. The question was carried by the vote of 318 to 12, and the city will proceed to have water works at once.

Hon. Geo. H. Alexander, of Jefferson county, won the Democratic nomination for railroad commissioner at the second district convention held Monday in Louisville. It was one of the best fought political battles on record in Kentucky.

The Estill circuit court is about to try a peculiar case. An ex-courty judge who was elected on a pledge to fill the office for a salary of $400 a year and let the fees go to the county is now going to see the county fix the balance on the fees.

An absent minded young preacher in New England, wishing to address the young ladies of the congregation after the morning services, remarked from the pulpit that he would be very glad if the female brethren of the congregation would remain after they had gone home.—Ex.

SMALL POX AT HENDERSON.

A special from Henderson to the Evansville Courier says: "Within the past few days eight cases of small pox have developed in this city, and are being cared for in a tent below the city limits. The newspapers of this city have been silent regarding the presence of the disease, while the correspondents for the foreign papers have neglected to give their respective journals any news about the unpleasant affliction. Two of the cases now in the pest tent, it is said, developed during the past three days. The physicians, when questioned regarding the patients, state that they are getting along nicely, but object to giving the number of those afflicted with the disease, and merely state that those afflicted contracted the disease at some other place. However, it is an asserted fact that there are eight cases there."

Regarding the above item the Henderson Journal of Wednesday makes the following denial: "We wish to make a positive denial of the above story before it gains credence. There is no epidemic of smallpox in Henderson now, nor has there ever been one. Furthermore none is expected, and such a publication is calculated to do this city considerable harm."

It is Known By Its Cures

It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit.

The thousands of people whom it has raised from disease and despair to happiness and health, are the strongest and best advertisement Hood's Sarsaparilla has. No other preparation in existence has such a record of wonderful cures. This is why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sale, and requires for its production the largest laboratory in the world. Now if you need a good medicine, why not try that which has done others so much good. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye, it is the only Hood's Pills set harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A GRAND TRIP.

The Boston Convention Office has Opened the Profitable Pleasure.

About 75 have thus far decided to join the Hopkinsville party in their "Royal Progress" to historic Boston. This is not an open excursion made up of promiscuous crowds, but practically a private party made up of our best people. The train will be strictly an endorser train made up of fine vestibuled sleepers direct. The route is through many of our principal cities, via Lake Erie, Niagara Falls, Mohawk Valley, Berkshire Hills, over the waters through Long Island Sound, and up the lordly Hudson. The round trip is only $28.50, returning same way and $38.75 via Sound steamer and Hudson river. Free trips will be given to Saratoga and Lake Champlain. The tickets will be good until July 31.

There is no place on the continent that offers more attractions than does Boston. It is said to be the most interesting place on the continent physically and historically, and the 50,000 endorser-travelers from all quarters of the globe will make it equally so intellectually and spiritually. The Kentucky and Tennessee delegations will be quartered together in "Great or Boston." The endorser-travelers will visit Plymouth Rock, Bunker Hill, Concord and Lexington, Salem, Paul Revere, Old North and South churches, Harvard University, Washington, Elm, Lowell's and Longfellow's and Hawthorne's home, Old Orchard Beach, White Mountains and hundreds of other places of interest. A bicycle excursion is being arranged along the course of Paul Revere. Behind and above all this will be the great Christian Endeavor convention, in which the scholarship of the world will be felt and where some of the world's orators will be heard. It will be perhaps the grandest convention in all the world's history. A convention where patriotism and Christian citizenship will be exalted, a convention of warm missionary flavor, a convention that will bring the ends of the earth together in the praise and worship of Almighty God. It would require pages to go into details of this mighty gathering. For full particulars address Mr. Fred A. Wallis.

The Benton Tribune says: "There were three boys and the same number of girls that ate 84 sandwiches, drank 30 glasses of lemonade and two gallons of water at Anno last Sunday and were still wanting more when they left."

A Stuffed Emperor.

One of the most remarkable stuffed skins on record was that of Valerian, emperor of Rome, who was taken prisoner and afterwards kept in a cage by Sapor, king of Persia. He was either killed in a turban or by order of the conqueror, who was perhaps fearful of losing his valuable living trophy, in the year 269. The body of the dead emperor was treated with no more delicacy than when it held the spark of a living one. It was skinned, the hide, after being tanned, was stuffed, painted red, and suspended in the chief temple of the capital. It remained there for many years, and was the popular spectacle for holiday makers and visitors from the country. But it was put to more important ends than this. It was made a diplomatic engine of much significance and efficiency. In after times it often happened that the Roman envoys at the Persian court had misunderstoodings, more or less serious, with the government to which they were temporarily accredited. When these ambassadors from Rome grew arrogant in their demands it was the custom to conduct them into the presence of the stuffed skin of the old emperor of Rome, where they were asked if humility did not become them at sight of such a spectacle.—Hartford Courant.

Choose Your Speech.

Those who are ordinarily the most careful in speech are sometimes led by excitement into the use of expressions which convey a meaning far different from what was intended.

The president of one of our leading colleges was annoyed one morning by the unseemly behavior of some of the students during the chapel services. Pausing for a moment, he turned toward the disturbing group and in a tone of great solemnity said:

Catharrh Cannot be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catharrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catharrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catharrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonic known, combined with the best blood purifier, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catharrh. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

Good Health.

And a good appetite go hand in hand. With the loss of appetite, the system cannot long sustain itself. Thus the fortifications of good health are broken down and the system is liable to attacks of disease. It is in such cases that the medical powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are clearly shown. Thousands who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla testify to its great merits as a purifier of the blood, its power to restore and sharpen the appetite and promote a healthy action of the digestive organs. This is not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story and constitutes the strongest recommendation that can be urged for any medicine. Why not take Hood's Sarsaparilla now?

SECRETARY OLNEY.

Regarded by His Friends as One of the Ablest Men in the Country.

The new secretary of state comes from sturdy Puritan stock. His ancestor, Thomas Olney, came from England and settled at Salem, Mass., in 1733. The father of Richard Olney owned and managed the cotton mills at Oxford and also engaged in banking. His mother was a Signorette, descended from the French Huguenots, who fled from France to this country. Mr. Olney was born in Boston, in Essex county, Mass., September 15, 1835. He was graduated from Brown university in 1856 and from Harvard law school in 1858. He married Agnes daughter of Judge Benjamin F. Thomas, with estate $24 to $40.

SECRETARY OF STATE RICHARD OLNEY.

whom he studied law. They have lived of late years in Boston, with summer homes near Buzzard's Bay and Gray Gables, the summer residence of the president. Mr. Olney is a gentleman of the literary attainments and tastes. Although a close student he is a lover of outdoor sports and is a good horseman, an enthusiastic tennis player and a skillful angler. He is a man of medium height and robust form, and in general appearance he conveys the impression of intense vitality and physical endurance beyond that of any man who has occupied the position of secretary of state in recent years. His face is strong, keen and intellectual. Though his manner is somewhat reserved and austere he unbends readily to the approach of intimate friends. Mr. Olney served one term in the state legislature of Massachusetts. In politics he is an old-time democrat. He did not take a prominent part in the last presidential campaign, but rendered service to Mr. Cleveland in an advisory manner. As a lawyer, Mr. Olney's success has been that of a counselor rather than that of an advocate. He is regarded as a masterly exponent of the law, relying more in a conclusion of expression and clearness of statement than upon purple rhetorical flourish for the success of his efforts.

THE CONVENTION.

facilities the Democratic party has succeeded in wholly withdrawing convict labor from competition with free labor and in abolishing the practice inherited from the Republican party of leasing the convicts to parties interested solely in making profit out of their labor, and in adopting the modern and improved methods by which the State and its officers are made directly responsible for the management of our State prisons and under which our penitentiary system has been and is being greatly improved.

During the twenty-eight years the people have intrusted the Democratic party with the control of the State Government, its administration has been characterized by the strictest economy and integrity, and in this regard we invite comparison with any Republican State government.

Fifth.—We express our confidence in the wisdom and honesty with which the present State administration has conducted the affairs of our State Government.

Messrs. Clardy, Ellis, Rhea and Coulter then submitted a minority report as follows:

The undersigned members of the Committee on Resolutions dissent from the views expressed by the majority of the committee in resolution No. 5, which is proposed as an indorsement of the present National Democratic Administration, because the said resolution is ambiguous, obscure and uncertain in its meaning, and is in no way calculated to straddle the most vital question now attracting the attention of the American people. And, while the undersigned do not concur in the views expressed in said resolution, nor in the views expressed in the amendment which they here submit, they nevertheless believe that it is the duty of the Democratic party to express itself in clear and unambiguous terms on this subject. The financial policy of present Democratic Administration deserves no unqualified indorsement at the hands of the Democratic party of Kentucky, or it does not deserve such indorsement, and, with a view of taking the opinion of the representatives of the Democratic party in convention assembled, we submit the following as an amendment to said resolution:

Resolved, Be the Democrats of Kentucky in Convention Assembled, That the present Democratic Administration is entitled to the thanks of the whole country for its statesmanlike management of public affairs, and we further declare that both President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle are entitled to the unqualified indorsement of the American people for maintaining the gold standard and thus maintaining the credit of the Government; and their issuance of $10,000,000 of interest bearing bonds is hereby expressly and emphatically indorsed.

The undersigned members of the Committee on Resolutions, believing that the Democratic party of Kentucky should plainly declare in favor of the bimetallic standard, and in favor of the following as a separate resolution and ask its adoption:

Resolved, That we believe in the coinage of gold and silver as the primary money of the country, in legal tender dollars, receivable in payment of all its debts, public and private, upon terms of exact equality.

After much wrangling the silver men were voted down at every turn. Ellis, Rhea, Rowe and Blackburn spoke for the minority and McCleary and Cassius M. Clay for the majority. The vote on the substitute was taken first on the double standard declaration and it was lost by 270 to 538. Then on the sarcastic endorsement of the bimetallic standard, both sides voted no, there being only 20 1/2 yeas. On the final adoption of the majority report the vote stood 234 to 643.

The convention then adjourned till night. Everything indicates at this writing that Hardin will be nominated and the ticket completed by to-morrow at noon.

TWO NOMINATIONS MADE.

LOUISVILLE, June 26.—On reassembling at 7:30 p. m. dilatory measures occupied almost an hour, when the name of Gen. Cassius M. Clay was presented by Geo. C. Lockhart for the nomination for governor, seconded by Isaac M. Quigley. J. R. Breckinridge, brother of Gen. W. C. P. Breckinridge, presented the name of Gen. F. W. Hardin, seconded by Jas. Tarvin and I. A. Spalding. Then the balloting commenced and as it proceeded external cheering and snoring voices for W. J. Stone and six mountaineers from Lee county voted for Henry Watrous. Rock Castle county voted solidly for Gen. Breckinridge, but no dark horses could stampede the well-lined up forces of Hardin and Clay.

Before the counties were all called it was evident that Gen. Hardin was nominated, and the Hardin men cheered as the last counties responded with "more for Hardin."

Before the result of the ballot was announced the Clay men moved that the nomination of Gen. Hardin be made unanimous, and it carried with a great hurrah.

The result of the ballot was announced as follows: Hardin 463, Clay 330, Stone 76, Watrous 3. For Lieutenant Governor the names of R. T. Tyler, Judge M. D. Boone and Oscar Turner, Jr., were presented. Tyler was nominated without counting the vote, when the convention at midnight adjourned till 9:30 yesterday.

YESTERDAY'S NOMINATIONS.

LOUISVILLE, June 27.—The convention reassembled at 9:30 this morning and went into the work of nominating a treasurer, auditor and register of land office. Ford received the nomination for treasurer, Norman for auditor and Swango for register.

A VERY REMARKABLE LETTER.

It Has Been in the Possession of the Warner Family 173 Years.

MILAN, Tenn.—Mr. J. A. Warner, of this city, has in his possession a wonderful letter, which is probably one of the oldest specimens in existence. It has been in the Warner family 173 years. It is written on a material resembling parchment, and yellow with the age of over two centuries. The copy and letter are presented as follows:

"Copy of a Letter." "Written by our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and found eighteen miles from Iconium twenty-five years after our blessed Saviour's crucifixion and transmitted from the holy city by a converted Jew, and faithfully translated from the original Hebrew copy now in possession of Lady Cubass."

"This letter was found under a stone, both round and large, at the foot of the cross eighteen miles from Iconium near a village called Mesopotamia. Upon this stone was written and engraved: 'Blessed be he that shall turn me over.' All that saw it prayed to God earnestly and desired that it would make known unto them the meaning of this writing, that they might not in vain turn over. In the meantime a little child of about 6 or 7 years of age turned it over, and under the stone was written the command of Jesus Christ in a letter published by the angel Gabriel nineteen years after the death of our blessed Saviour and carried by a person belonging to Lady Cubass, and made public in the city of Iconium."

"The Letter." "Glorify to God on high and on earth good will to all men, who ever worketh on the Sabbath day shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and keep the Lord's day holy without doing any manner of work. You shall not idle or mispend your time in decking yourself in superfluities and cost of apparel and vain dress, for I have ordained a day to be kept holy that your sins may be forgiven; you shall not break My commandments, but observe and keep them written with My own hand. You shall not only go to church yourself, but your man servant, to observe My word and learn My commandments. You shall finish your labor every Saturday at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, for that time the preparations of the Sabbath begin."

"I advise you to fast five days in the year, beginning with Good Friday, and so continue the four first days following, in remembrance of the five bloody wounds I received for mankind."

"You shall diligently and peacefully labor in your respective vocation wherein it has pleased Almighty God to place you. "You shall love one and another with brotherly love and cause them that are not baptized to come to church and receive the holy sacrament, and be made members thereof; and in so doing you shall receive blessings and comfort you in great temptation, and surely he that doeth to the contrary shall be cursed and unprofitable. I will also send hardships of heart upon them, but especially upon impatient sinners and hardened unbelievers. 'He that giveth not to the poor shall be unprofitable. "Remember to keep the Sabbath day, for the seventh day I have kept to myself, and he that hath a copy of this letter and keepeth it without publishing to others shall not prosper, and they that publish it to others shall be blessed of Me, and if their sum be in numbers as stars in the firmament I will believe in them they shall be pardoned and if they believe not in this writing and keep not My commandments I will send my plague upon them and their children and their cattle, and whosoever shall have the copy of this letter and keep it in the house nothing shall do them damage neither pestilence, lightning or thunder shall hurt them, and if women be with child and in labor if a copy of this letter be about her and she puts her trust in Me, she shall be safely delivered of her birth. You shall hear no more of me, but of the blessed spirit until the day of judgment."

WAKEFIELD MEMORIAL.

Washington's Birthplace to Be Appropriately Marked.

One of the Most Picturesque Spots on the Potomac River—A Brief History of an Ancient Virginia Estate.

[Special Washington Letter.]

Half a century more ancient than Mount Vernon, and one of the most picturesque spots on the Potomac river, is Wakefield, Westmoreland county, Va., the birthplace of George Washington. It has been a subject of general remark that Mount Vernon, the home and last resting place of Washington, has been taken care of and beautified, while Wakefield, the birthplace of the Father of His Country, has been almost totally neglected. Wakefield is situated about seventy miles down the Potomac, south of the national capital, and sixteen miles from Colonial beach, an excursion resort to which hundreds of pleasure seekers go daily in the summer months and sail and bathe in the salt water.

Many years ago there were plans suggested for erecting a suitable only $24,712 which could be expended on the memorial proper. This sum is deemed insufficient to construct the granite vault, and Mr. Evans plan, will, therefore, not be adopted. Col. Wilson's plan is to erect over the spot where the old house stood a simple rugged shaft bearing an appropriate inscription. The shaft is to be a granite column, and of sufficient height to be visible from the excursion boats on the river. The work is now fairly under way. Surveys are at work to ascertain how high the shaft will need to be in order to be easily seen from all points on the river, which is nine miles wide; so it is reasonable to presume that within a short time there will be a handsome monument erected at Wakefield to suitably mark the birthplace of the Father of His Country.

It will probably be interesting to give right here a brief history of this old estate and the manner in which the Washingtons were identified with it. The only object which in any way now discloses to visitors the identity of Wakefield is a memorial stone on the site of the dwelling, which states that here, on the 11th day of February, 1732, George Washington was born. It was a beautiful June day in 1818 when Mr. Custis, with three other gentlemen, sailed from Alexandria in his own little vessel, with this memorial stone wrapped in an American flag, and landing at a convenient place, here it to the destined spot. They gathered a few bricks from the ruins of one of the chimneys and constructed a rude pedestal, on which they laid the stone and commended it to the care of the American people.

The first of the Washington family in America was John Washington, who settled in Westmoreland county in 1657. He was prosperous, and acquired a large landed estate. His eldest son, Lawrence, succeeded him, marrying a Miss Warner, of Gloucester county. Among his children was Augustine, who, at the age of twenty-one, married Miss Jane Brier, neighbor's daughter, who bore him two sons, Augustine, Jr., and Lawrence, who became the half brothers of George. In 1728 their mother died. Two years later their father married Mary Ball, and the first born of this union was George, the afterwards great patriot, soldier and statesman.

Washington, when president in 1792, wrote a genealogical table of the Washington family. In it is the following: "Jane, wife of Augustine, died November 24, 1728, and was buried in the family vault at Bridge Creek. Augustine then married Mary Ball, March 6, 1729. The Washingtons lived for three generations on the estate, and the family vault at Bridge Creek. Mary Ball's father was a well-to-do planter on the Rappahannock river, and she died in 1728. Mary's older brother, Joseph Ball, was a lawyer, settled in London, and after the death of their mother she joined this brother and his family in London. About the same time Augustine Washington also went over to England. He married Mary Ball in England in the year 1730, and for wedding tour recrossed the Atlantic and went to the old homestead in Westmoreland county.

The dwelling to which Augustine Washington took his second wife was very modest, yet it ranked among the best at that time. It was a two-story house with the usual big chimneys at each end. On the river front was a piazza. Here in this model home Mary Ball Washington gave birth to the son who made his name immortal. This Virginia manor about which clustered so much of the interesting history of the "Father of His Country" was doomed to destruction. One morning in April, 1780, while the servants were burning some brush in the garden, the dry shingles on the low roof of the house caught fire from a spark and the flames spread so rapidly that nothing could be done to check their progress, and the whole structure was destroyed. Only the old chimneys remained standing.

Augustine Washington owned the Mount Vernon estate, and also one in Frederickburg, and on it was a dwelling almost the counterpart of the one consumed at Wakefield. Thither Mr. Washington came when he was ill, and there he dwelt the remainder of his life. He died in 1743, when George was eleven years old. His body was laid in the family vault at Bridge Creek near his old homestead. By the death of Augustine his wife and children came into possession of a large estate. Lawrence was succeeded by Mount Vernon and when he died he left his property to his daughter, who died without issue, and George Washington then took possession of Mount Vernon, while the second son, Augustine, Jr., took the property in Westmoreland county. The history of Wakefield, in which George Washington was born, was never rebuilt; and now, after many years, a fitting memorial is to be erected at that place.

VIGILANT POLICEMAN.

Chicago Coppers Keep an Eye on Bicycle Thieves.

The Story of Young Jones, Describing the Trouble He Had to Make His Way Home at Night with a Wheel He Couldn't Ride.

Men who read the newspapers often think that policemen are useless crowd, good only for ornament and as butts for comic writers. To see the error of this idea, says the Chicago Record, you have only to make a simple test. Young Jones tried it and knows for himself whether policemen are useful or not. He carried his three dollars and thirty-three cents a month.

It happened that Jones fell in with the cycle craze. He bought a wheel, though he could not ride it, and was afraid to leave the machine out of his sight over night. So, he would take the wheel home by hand rather than that.

It was between midnight and dawn when he appeared in Michigan boulevard. The lamps cast queer shadows and the clatter of cabs echoed, so that young Jones scarcely knew which way to turn. To make matters worse he held his wheel with his left hand, contrary to bicycle etiquette, and when his pedals were not scraping his shins and tripping him he was in collision with the bicycle lamp. And thus waddling from curb to curb, inviting destruction by reckless all-night coupon men and babbling to make his way to Twenty-third street.

Passing in the full glare of a street lamp several belated men paused to remark, "Why that fellow, that fellow, that fellow!" One impudent person, called a "gilded youth," made a very sarcastic remark of similar import. Young Jones was conceding a plain lie about "breaking a pedal" when he heard heavy steps behind him.

"Good morning," said a stout man with two rows of brass buttons. "Why don't you ride?" "Don't want to," answered Jones, looking backward. The policeman strode by and came about face directly in the path of the wheel.

"It's this way," said No. — "Them as can ride, rides, and them as has wheels and can't ride, we supervise. You know." "I stole this wheel?" "Can't always tell; such things do happen, sir."

"Well, now," said Jones, growing excited, "if you don't like my style I'll go over to the 'Grove' with you, and I'll show you a little mind-reading—tell me the number of this machine, the marks on it—"

"That's no sign. Smooth crooks change numbers. I've seen some man's 'um. If it's your wheel, mount it and ride."

"But I can't ride. I got it only yesterday, and I'm going to learn to-day. Say, you got your right on the box and you have the operator switch on to Jack's Sheen's line or get Inspector Fitzpatrick; any of them knows Jones."

"Oh, it's all right, sure," said No. —, edging away. "I knew, quick as I clapped eyes on you, you was all right, but it's my duty to keep watch for bicycle thieves. No offense meant. Good morning."

At Thirty-first street Jones was still trundling his wheel. A policeman emerged from a shadow and remarked: "Fine wheel you got; 'tain't basted, neither. Why don't you ride it?" "I can't," said Jones. "You think I stole the wheel, just as that other copper did down the street. Can't a man take his own property home at night without being cross-questioned? Do I look like a robber?"

"You can't most always tell, though I don't say you stole the wheel. Where d'ye get it?" "Bought it and am going to learn to ride it to-day. Say, officer, is it really the lieutenant at your house now? I know him well—fine feller."

"You know the lieutenant, eh?" said No. —, with interest. "Well, it's all right. Go on, now, home. But I'll learn to mount the wheel before being out at this time o' night, see. We suspicious fellows who can't. Thieves is so thick."

Young Jones breathed easier and went his way. But a few blocks farther down the avenue another policeman began a conversation with the same drift.

"Say, officer," cried Jones, "you are the third one that has been talking to me. I can't ride. I'm going to learn to-day. I didn't steal the wheel. I bought it with money. My name is Jones. I live at — street, Twenty-third street. I'm going to Forty-second street. Sheen and Fitzpatrick and Hunt and Andy' Rohan know me. The number on my wheel is 25,000. Do I look like a robber?"

"You're all right. You'll have to excuse me, but it's orders for my eyes. Crooks is coming to make a sick in these parts. Good morning." Jones got home at last. He says that this is the safest city in the world to hold property in bicycles.

The Boys Raped a Harvest.

The towns of Sandwich, Mass., recently offered a bounty of twenty-five cents for a muskrat head, while at the same time the town of Bourne offered The boy hunters sold the head in Sandwich, paid five cents car fare, and sold the tail in Bourne. The Sandwich Solons were irritated when they discovered the game, and changed their offer from heads to tails. Unfortunately, the Bourne hunters the same week sent in on one day from tails to heads, and the boys cheerfully sold the muskrat's tail in Sandwich and the head in Bourne. This continued for another month, and then the wise men of both towns put their heads together and agreed to give twenty-five cents for entire muskrats, only. Thus was the ring dissolved.

Invitations to Chinese Dinners.

The Chinese send three invitations to the guests that they desire to see at their great repasts. The first is dispatched two days before the feast; the second on the day of the feast, in order to mind those they expect of their engagement, and the third just before the hour has struck, so as to show how impatient they are to see their friends arrive.

Weak and Nervous

Describes the condition of thousands of people at this season. They have no appetite, cannot sleep, and complain of the prostrating effect of summer weather. This condition may be remedied by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which creates an appetite and tones up all the organs. It gives good health by making the blood pure.

Hood's Pills are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, cure head ache.

Curious Statistics.

Computations on Smoke Puffs, Air Pressure, Kisses and Politeness.

A German lover of figures has made the following curious calculations: A man smoking a pipe of medium size blows out of his mouth for every minute he fills the pipe seven hundred smoke clouds. If he smokes four pipes a day for twenty years he blows out twenty million four hundred and forty thousand smoke clouds.

If two lovers spend four hours together and the lover takes or receives two hundred kisses—low calculation—and each kiss lasts ten seconds, in five years' time the lover would have three hundred and sixty-five thousand kisses, and their lips would have been united for a total of forty-two days and six hours.

If the entire population is considered to be one billion four hundred million the brains of this number of human beings would weigh one million nine hundred and twenty-two thousand seven hundred and twelve tons, or as much as sixty-six ironclads of the ordinary size.

The air pressure on a person of ordinary size is thirteen and a half tons.

A man of fifty years of age has in ordinary cases undressed himself eighteen thousand three hundred and fifty times, and, of course, dressed himself just as many times.

When a person on the street raises his hat, makes a bow, the work of a second, he is carried by the momentum of the earth five hundred meters round with the planet, three miles round the sun, and nearly a mile forward with the sun.

Better than Hot Springs.

CORR. KY.—I write to thank you for the Electropne, and will state that I have been suffering with sciatica for three years. I was not able to do any work, and tried everything and made a trip to Hot Springs, which gave me partial relief, but I was as bad as ever a short while after I returned home. Thanks to the Electropne I can now say I am a well man from every rheumatic pain. GEO. R. WHITE.

Two years ago I was in very bad health, physicians said it was Bright's Disease, and they could do nothing for me, and my chances for living as long as two months was very slim. I bought an Electropne and began to improve at once. Am now in first-class health.

L. A. HOPSON, Hopson, Ky.

I am well pleased with the Electropne, and can not say too much in its praise; I used it for rheumatism, and it has entirely cured me. Those suffering with rheumatism should by all means give it a trial.
